

Suit Care

A crisp, clean, and professional looking suit sends an important message to others. Keep your suit looking great in between regular dry cleanings with these tips.

Use a garment brush to remove lint and keep the fabric looking fresh

Hang on wide wooden or padded hangers to help the suit jacket keep its shape

Do not store in plastic garment bags—over time, the plastic breaks down and give off fumes that damage fabric

Give it room to breathe—don't cram it into an overly full closet.

If you wear a belt, take it out when hanging the suit pants. Even if you are going to wear them again the next day, leaving the belt hanging in the loops weakens the fabric.

Consider investing in a steamer to remove wrinkles at home. Always read garment care labels—not all suits are safe to iron.

Have suits dry cleaned in GreenEarth every 2-3 wearings to prevent oil and dirt buildup around the collar and cuffs, remove wrinkles, and refresh the fabric.
